

Data Protection Policy

ASH Construction Group needs to collect and use certain types of information about staff, suppliers, sub-contractors, clients and other individuals whom it comes into contact with in the course of its day to day business. This information must be dealt with properly however it is collected, recorded and used - whether on paper, in electronic format on a computer, or recorded on other material - and there are safeguards to ensure this contained in the Data Protection Act 2018 and the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) 2018.

ASH Construction Group regards the lawful and correct treatment of information as very important and therefore ensures that information is treated lawfully and correctly at all times. To this end the Company fully endorses and adheres to the Principles of Data Protection, as detailed in the Data Protection Act 2018 and the associated GDPR.

Due consideration is also given to the protection of any personal/client information stored on staff lap top computers and the need for restriction of access to the information stored via password protection of the device.

Specifically, the principles adopted by ASH Construction Group require that information:

- shall be processed fairly and lawfully and, in particular, shall not be processed unless specific conditions are met
- shall be obtained only for one or more specified and lawful purposes, and shall not be further processed in any manner incompatible with that purpose or those purposes
- shall be adequate, relevant and not excessive in relation to the purpose or purposes for which they are processed
- shall be accurate and, where necessary, kept up to date
- shall not be kept for longer than is necessary for that purpose or those purposes
- shall be processed in accordance with the rights of data subjects under the Act
- appropriate technical and organisational measures shall be taken against unauthorised or unlawful processing of personal data and against accidental loss or destruction of, or damage to, personal data

ASH Construction Group will, through appropriate management, strict application of criteria and controls;

- observe fully conditions regarding the fair collection and use of information
- meet its legal obligations to specify the purposes for which information is used
- collect and process appropriate information, and only to the extent that it is needed to fulfil operational needs or to comply with any legal requirements
- ensure the quality of information used
- apply strict checks to determine the length of time information is held
- ensure that the rights of people/companies about whom information is held, can be fully exercised under the Act / Regulation. (These include; the right to be informed that processing is being undertaken, the right of access to one's personal information, the right to prevent processing in certain circumstances and the right to correct, rectify, block or erase information which is regarded as wrong information)
- take appropriate technical and organisational security measures to safeguard personal information
- ensure that personal information is not transferred abroad without suitable safeguards
- treat people justly and fairly whatever their age, religion, disability, gender, sexual orientation or ethnicity when dealing with requests for information
- set out clear procedures for responding to requests for information.

In addition, ASH Construction Group will ensure that:

- there is someone with specific responsibility for Data Protection – this being the responsibility of the Managing Director
- everyone managing and handling personal client information understands that they are contractually responsible for following good data protection practice
- everyone managing and handling personal/client information is appropriately trained to do so
- everyone managing and handling personal/client information is adequately supervised, where necessary
- anybody wanting to make enquiries about handling personal/client information knows what to do
- queries about handling personal/client information are promptly and courteously dealt with
- methods of handling personal information are clearly described
- a regular review and audit is made of the way personal information is held, managed and used
- methods of handling personal information are regularly assessed and evaluated
- performance with handling personal information is regularly assessed and evaluated
- a breach of the rules and procedures identified in this policy by a member of staff may lead to disciplinary action being taken
- a breach of the rules and procedures identified in this policy by a member of staff is a potential breach of the Group's Code of Conduct.

In accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), ASH Construction Group will only share personal data where there is a lawful basis to do so and where such disclosure is necessary for legitimate business purposes or to comply with legal and regulatory obligations. Personal data may be shared with carefully selected third parties, including service providers acting as data processors, professional advisers, affiliated entities, and competent authorities. All third parties are required to process personal data in accordance with written contractual agreements that impose appropriate confidentiality, security, and data protection obligations.

This policy will be updated as necessary to reflect best practice in data management, security and control and to ensure compliance with any changes or amendments made to the Data Protection Act 2018 or GDPR.

This policy applies throughout ASH Construction Group's scope of supply and in relation to all employees, key suppliers, contractors and sub-contractors utilised by the business
